GETTING READY FOR THE SONG BIRDS

With the business manager of the Lombardi Grand Opera company now in the city completing arrangements for the arrival of his big organization of Italian songbirds, interest in the coming festival of song, at the Royal Hawaiian Opera house, takes on a decided impetus. Charles R. Baker, representative for Impresario Mario Lombardi, reached here yesterday on the Mongolia, and at once got busy with the innumerable details incident to the coming opera season here. Mr. Baker brought the information that the entire Lombardi company, precisely as heard at San Francisco for the past seven weeks, will sail from that city on the steamship Sierra, Tuesday, reaching Honolulu the following Monday morning, March 3. There are upwards of seventy people in the organization, which embraces fifteen of the world's noted operatic stars. Nearly twenty tons of scenic and other stage effects will be required to properly present the operas selected for production in Honolulu, the repertoire being so arranged that, not only the most popular operas of the past school of composition may be heard, but several of the present-day masterworks, such as Tosca, Thais, La Boheme, Otello and others are to be included in the list.

Among the leading artists to be heard during the visit of the organization to Honolulu are Ester Adaberto, dramatic soprano, formerly of the Metropolitan Opera company; Mme. Regina Vicarino, coloratura soprano, formed by San Francisco critics, "the second Tetrazzini"; Blanche Hamilton Fox, mezzo soprano, late of the National Grand Opera company, Mexico City; Sig. Eugenio Felco, tenor, direct from La Scala, Milan; Sig. Giuseppe Agostini, tenor, who created the role of Rodolfo, in Puccini's great opera, "La Boheme." There are three celebrated baritones from the leading theaters of Europe; Sigs. Francesco Nicoletto, Michele Giovacchini and Emilio Pineschi. Sig. Giovanni Martino, alto of La Scala, is the leading basso, while Sig. Arturo Bovi, from the Theater Costanzi, Rome, will conduct most of the performances.

A complete roster of the leading singers will be published later. Mr. Baker announces the correct repertoire for the first week of the Lombardi engagement to be as follows: Monday, March 3—Rigoletto. Tuesday—Il Trovatore. Wednesday—Lucia Di Lammermoor. Thursday—Cavalleria Rusticana and Pagliacci. Friday—Faust. Saturday matinee—Barber of Seville. Saturday evening—Aida.

NOMINATION OF FREAR SHOVED ASIDE

Committee on Pacific Islands and Porto Rico Fails to Consider Important Matters

By C. S. ALBERT

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence) WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 19.—The nomination of Governor Frear for another four-year term has been apparently thrown into the scrap heap. The intimation has been given out that no further efforts will be made to obtain a favorable report from the senate committee on Pacific islands and Porto Rico. In fact, the bald statement was made that the activities of that committee have terminated for this session of congress.

The formal meeting of the committee, called to consider the Frear nomination, the Crona prohibition measure and the Porto Rico citizenship bill, proved a dismal failure. A quorum did not appear. No interest whatever was manifested in the pending propositions. Senator Poindexter, chairman of the committee, immediately afterward permitted it to be made known that no future attempt would be made to have a meeting of his committee between this time and March 4.

Delegate Kalaniana'ole and Secretary Desha were promptly on hand to attend the session of the committee which did not develop. They were ready and eager to explain why the nomination of Governor Frear should not be favorably reported and to compare how his administration has been detrimental to the small planters and of advantage to the larger ones. Protests against confirmation had been filed long before this time, but the delegate desired an opportunity to verbally recite the governor's shortcomings. This was rendered unnecessary by the virtual abandonment of the matter.

Chairman Poindexter is doubtless chiefly responsible for the total failure of Governor Frear's nomination. That only applies to the obtaining of a favorable report from the committee on Pacific Islands and Porto Rico. Confirmation has never been expected at any time during this session. It was believed that a favorable report could be secured and the name placed upon the executive calendar of the senate, where it would fail.

During all the battles in the senate over the matter of President Taft's appointments, Senator Poindexter has always co-operated with the Democrats, voting with them against holding executive sessions. He has been embittered because of Judge Howard's selection as successor to Judge Taft of Washington, who escaped impeachment proceedings by resigning. He has preferred the loss of all appointments rather than take chances on the confirmation of Judge Howard.

Knowing that the Democrats did not desire the confirmation of Governor Frear, and had him on the list scheduled for rejection, Mr. Poindexter did not make any strenuous efforts to secure favorable action. In fact, it is probable he thought the nomination should be among those going over to the administration of President-elect Wilson.

The Crona bill, to prohibit the sale of intoxicating liquors in Hawaii, lost its last chance when the committee quorum did not appear. There was no hope that it could become a law at this session, but it might have been pushed through the senate as an object lesson. It will now die a peaceful death in a pigeonhole. The statements made by John G. Wooley, former prohibition candidate for president, and Mrs. Ella A. Weaver of Honolulu, a noted temperance advocate, will be kept on hand for use when the subject comes up next winter.

R. A. LYON BETTER.

Ralph A. Lyon, who was taken to the Queen's hospital last Wednesday, suering from a bullet wound inflicted by the accidental discharge of a revolver which he was cleaning, was reported as being very much improved this morning. Despite the efforts of the doctors in attendance, they have failed to locate the bullet, and until this is done there will be some doubt as to his immediate recovery.

I read it in the Star-Bulletin. It must be so.
